Note from the Director

Happy Holidays! Welcome to our special combined November/December 2016 edition of VA's Office of Tribal Government Relations (OTGR) newsletter. November and December proved to be busy months as I'm sure they have been for our readers. November 11 was Veterans Day and here in Washington, D.C. VA Secretary Bob McDonald was very honored to have the opportunity to offer his personal regards to 43 Native Veterans during a reception hosted by the National Museum of the American Indian (NMAI). The Veterans traveled to D.C. as part of the Honor Flight program. November is also National Native American Heritage Month and we were fortunate that the NMAI generously allowed us to use their history of Native Americans in the armed forces exhibit to display in the VA headquarters lobby throughout the month. NMAI curator emeritus and author of the National Geographic book “Warriors in Uniform,” Herman J. Viola was our guest speaker and he provided a rich over view of the legacy and history of Native peoples who served in the U.S. military. Mr. Viola is also part of the NMAI effort (as mandated by Congress) to establish a National Native Veterans Memorial on the grounds of the NMAI. Here is the link to more information about the Native Veteran Memorial effort: https://nmai.si.edu/nnavm/. NMAI leadership and Memorial Committee members will continue to engage in tribal consultation on the project moving into 2017, so any information that we become aware of, we’ll make sure to share with our contacts.

Looking west, our tribal government relations specialist for part of the VA Continental District, Mary Culley, was hard at work supporting the 4th Annual Inter-Tribal Homeless Veterans Stand Down (The Stand Down assisted native and non-native Veterans alike,) which was held at the Cox Convention Center in downtown Oklahoma City. The event had tremendous collaborative support from 14 tribes within the state, including generous support from the Cheyenne-Arapaho Tribes of Oklahoma, the Southern Plains Tribal Health Board, Oklahoma City VA Health Care System (OKVAHCS), Tinker Air Force Base, the Oklahoma National Guard, the U.S. Public Health Service/Indian Health Service and many other tribal, federal, state and non-profit partners. Chickasaw Nation Lt. Governor Jefferson Keel, who is himself a retired U.S. Army Officer and Veteran advocate, graciously offered plenary remarks and engaged in visiting with attendees, clinicians and providers. His presence and support were much appreciated and we look forward to continuing to work with him in the days ahead.

Since the Stand Down, Mary has remained busy, traveling with VBA representatives to the headquarters of the Alabama Coushatta Tribe (where she also offered the Veterans Day Keynote Address) to facilitate stronger communications and scope out possible collaborative opportunities between the tribe and the VA. Back home in Oklahoma, she’s continued to work on providing training and technical assistance to providers as part of the national implementation of Tribal HUD VASH, participating in the OKC VAHCS 16th Annual Honor (Gourd) Dance and participating in the Oklahoma Governor’s Strategic Planning Session focused on gaps in mental health services for Veterans, their families and active duty service members. Looking ahead to the coming year, Mary is working to link VHA and VBA to the Southern Plains Tribal Health Board Public Health Conference which is coming up in April of 2017. More information will be forthcoming.

Moving just a little further west to Arizona, our tribal government relations specialist Homana Pawiki secured VA presenter support for the regional Centers for Medicare Medicaid Services training offered to IHS, Tribal Health Program and Urban Indian Health Program staff. Homana then coordinated support for the 10th Annual Hopi Tribe Health Collaborative meeting which was held in Flagstaff, AZ and assisted Navajo Nation leadership and representatives with planning the Navajo Nation Veterans Summit which was also held in Flagstaff, AZ. She’ll be closer to Phoenix by mid-December when she’s scheduled to participate in a strategic American Indian/Alaska Native Veterans Engagement Plan for the Phoenix area to be held on the Salt River reservation.

Way out west (), our tribal government relations specialist, Terry Bentley, helped coordinate a Veterans Summit hosted by the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs Indian Reservation during the early part of November. Terry also represented our VA Intergovernmental Affairs Deputy Secretary on December 7 at the 75th Pearl Harbor commemoration ceremony in Honolulu, HI. Back home, Terry is working on 2 Veterans Summits for the new year, the first one will be held in June and hosted by the Nez Perce Tribe in Idaho, a second summit will also be held in June, likely location will be Northern Nevada.

Out in the Midwest, Peter Vicaire has been co-planning the Oglala Lakota Veterans Opportunity Workshop, which is taking place on December 15-16 at the Journey Museum in Rapid City, SD. The agenda can be found below. This event is a collaborative effort of the Oglala Lakota Nation, the USDA and OTGR. I’m looking forward to attending this event and the opportunity it provides to conduct outreach and connect tribal leaders, Veteran service providers and Veterans to key points of contact across VA and other agencies who can continue to increase access to care, benefits and promote economic sustainability for our Veterans across Indian Country. Peter has also traveled to the Little River Band of Ottawa Indians in Manistee, MI, to provide updates to the United Tribes of Michigan. Most recently he briefed tribal leaders at a Minnesota Indian Affairs Council meeting as well as at a Bemidji IHS Area Tribal Budget Formulation Meeting.

As we move into the holiday season, I would like to pause and reflect on how honored, blessed and thankful I am to serve our Veterans. If any of our readers would like to connect with us directly, I encourage you to reach out by emailing us: tribalgovernmentconsultation@va.gov. I look forward to hearing from you, meeting you and hopefully working with you on projects that support our Veterans in the coming year.

Warm Regards,

Stephanie

Happy Reading.

The United Tribes of Michigan joins the Four Tribes of Kansas, the Iowa Tribe of Oklahoma and the National Congress of America Indians to pass similar resolutions.
You can read the 2013 NCAI Resolution here, which urges Congress, at a national level, to return these lost wages to those Native American veterans who were wrongly taxed. This illegal taxation happened for 24 years, from 1977 through 2001. The State of New Mexico adopted legislation in 2008 to return these improperly-held taxes but there are still 24 states remaining who have not returned these monies: Alabama; California; Colorado; Connecticut; Idaho; Iowa; Kansas; Louisiana; Maine; Massachusetts; Michigan; Minnesota; Mississippi; Montana; Nebraska; New Mexico; New York; North Carolina; North Dakota; Oklahoma; Oregon; Rhode Island; South Carolina; Utah and Wisconsin.

In May of this year, the Arizona House of Representatives passed a bill, H.B. 2323, which created a $2,000,000 fund to compensate Native American veterans who were domiciled on tribal lands in Arizona and had state income taxes improperly withheld while on active military service. The bill also establishes a process whereby Native American veterans in Arizona can recover those state income taxes that were withheld.

Tribal Tradition Meets Telemental Health Technology

By Maichi Halley, Communications Specialist, Office of Rural Health, U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs

Veterans on reservations with VA providers who work with members of the Tribal Outreach Workers (TOW) and TVR programs to provide support. TOWs are tribe member VA employees that conduct on-the-ground coordination, technical troubleshooting, and trust-building for Veterans within their communities. TVR focuses on outreach to identify Veterans on reservations that may find the program and VA benefits applicable to their needs.

One focus of tribal telemental health is to provide culturally sensitive care to AI/AN Veterans. For instance, patients often prefer privacy and autonomy during their visits. Because telemental health delivers care via technology, sessions are more private with the provider, eliminating potentially uncomfortable or unfamiliar settings during face-to-face care, such as open waiting rooms. Virtual sessions are conducted in private, closed rooms with large monitors and soothing noise machines. Also, the ability to coordinate with the TOW and TVR to schedule sessions creates another level of service for AI/AN Veterans seeking mental health treatment.

Another way that VA integrates culturally sensitive care is through work with traditional healers to implement sweat lodges as part of patient treatment, during which heated rocks are placed, songs are sung, and/or prayers are offered for spiritual healing, depending on the tribe. "There are 64 federally recognized tribes and other non-federally recognized nations in Veterans Integrated Service Network 19 alone," Richardson observed. "The key for the program is to balance the unique needs of each nation, to find out what each is trying to do, and what the Veterans in those clinics are really asking for." Multiple facilities, such as VA medical centers in Salt Lake City, Utah, and Fort Harrison, Montana, already integrate sweat lodges as part of their mental health treatment programs.

Following the success of the first site at Rose Bud Sioux in South Dakota, other VA facilities expressed interest in setting up tribal telemental health services, tailored to their local needs. Similar services expanded to AI/AN communities in Alaska, Michigan, and, most recently, five sites in separate Oklahoma nations. "I'm proud of everyone involved who helped the program expand and increase access to care. It was a collaborative achievement to work through obstacles, keep building the clinics, get to where we are now after starting with just one small site," Richardson said. As a longer-term vision, however, Richardson is less concerned with growth and more with meaning need. His priority is to continue to integrate more traditional, supplemental healing rituals such as medicine wheels and sweat lodge gatherings into the program.

Taos Pueblo veterans get new wheels

Here’s an article by Cody Hooks which ran in The Taos News.

“Imagine needing to get to Santa Fe or even Albuquerque for a doctor appointment but with no way to get there. That’s a reality faced everyday by some veterans at Taos Pueblo.

Wounded Warriors Family Support (WWFS), a veterans advocacy organization, donated a 2016 Ford Explorer to the tribe to help out those veterans for whom time and distance are major roadblocks to health care. It was dedicated during a ceremony Oct. 17, which featured a procession on the Pueblo with Taos Pueblo government officials and a group of Pueblo men that were singing a parade song. Col. John D. Folsom, of WWFS, told The Taos News his organization has donated 22 vans to different tribes over the last year, including one at Jemez Pueblo.

Taos Pueblo Governor Benito M. Sandoval told those in attendance Monday that while many veterans had passed, the donated van will serve those still in the community “who put their lives on the line for our freedom...to see the sun rise every day and the moon rise every night.”

Department of Veterans Affairs
Fort Yates ND 58538

November 7, 2016

Press Release

The Standing Rock Department of Veterans Affairs has been selected for the Veterans Affairs Veterans Cemetery Grants Program. The grant assists by providing gravesites to Veterans through establishing cemeteries in locales including federally recognized tribal governments, states and territories. A presentation of the grant announcement was held at the Standing Rock Tribal Council Chambers in Fort Yates last week Thursday, Nov. 3rd with Standing Rock Chairman Dave Archambault II presiding. Representing the grants program were George Eisenbach Jr., Director, Veterans Cemetery Grants Program and Howard Orr, Program Manager, Veterans Cemetery Grants Program.

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Veterans Cemetery Grants Program was established in 1978 to complement VA’s National Cemetery Administration.

Cemeteries must be operated solely for the burial of service members who die on active duty, veterans, and their eligible spouses and dependent children.

Eligibility Determinations For Burial – In Advance of Need

Many individuals would like to know, in advance, whether they are eligible for burial in a Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) national cemetery. To assist them, VA is launching an initiative, the “Pre-Need Eligibility Determination Program,” specifically aimed at helping individuals with burial planning and making sure their wishes are known.

VA will upon request make pre-need determinations of eligibility for burial in a VA national cemetery in advance of need. Having this information will help Veterans use the VA benefits they have earned, for their families and for themselves.

Once VA determines that individuals are eligible, those individuals will be entitled to the same benefits they would receive were a determination made at the time of need (time of death). These include any or all of the following, at no cost to the family:

- Burial in any open VA national cemetery, including opening and closing of the grave
  - Grave liner
  - Perpetual care of the gravesite
- Government-furnished upright headstone, flat marker or niche cover
  - Burial flag
  - Presidential Memorial Certificate

Eligibility

The law provides eligibility for burial in a national cemetery to:

- Members of the armed forces
- Veterans who have met minimum active duty service requirements as applicable by law and who were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable

Members of the reserve components of the armed forces are also eligible, provided they:

- Died while on active duty under certain circumstances, or while performing training duty;
  - Have 20 years of service creditable for retired pay; or
  - Were called to active duty and served the full term of service.

The Veterans’ spouse, minor children and under certain conditions dependent unmarried adult children are eligible for burial even if they predecease the eligible Veteran.

Applying for Benefits

VA encourages Veterans and their spouses to apply for a pre-need burial eligibility determination. Authorized representatives can also apply on behalf of eligible claimants.

To apply, submit:
- VA Form 40-10007, Application for Pre-Need Determination of Eligibility for Burial in a VA National Cemetery; and

- Proof of military service, such as a DD Form 214, if available. If unable to locate proof of military service, apply anyway as VA will attempt to obtain military records necessary to make a determination.

Information should be submitted to the VA National Cemetery Scheduling Office by any of the following methods:

- Fax: 1-855-840-8299 (this is a toll-free number)
- Email: Eligibility.PreNeed@va.gov
- Postal mail: NCSO, P.O. Box 510543, St. Louis MO 63151

Individuals do not need to request a pre-need burial determination to be eligible at the time of need. There is no obligation for those found eligible to be buried in a VA national cemetery.

What to Expect After Applying

VA will review pre-need burial applications and provide written notice of a determination of eligibility (a decision letter). VA will save the information electronically for future reference and to expedite processing burial claims at the time of need.

Note: Applicants should save a copy of all documents submitted and the decision letter received. It is also a good idea to communicate with one’s loved ones or estate planners where the documents are, and about the preference to be buried in a VA national cemetery.

At The Time of Need

At the eligible individual’s time of need (death), the family or personal representative responsible for making the final arrangements, should contact VA’s National Cemetery Scheduling Office to request burial benefits. VA will confirm the pre-need eligibility determination and schedule the burial.

Because laws and personal circumstances change, VA will validate the pre-need decision using the laws in effect at the time VA receives the burial request. We will also check for any bars to receipt of the burial benefit.

Please note that applicants may indicate a preference for a VA national cemetery on the application form, but a pre-need determination of eligibility does not guarantee burial in a specific VA national cemetery or a specific gravesite. VA assigns gravesites in cemeteries with available space once death has occurred and the burial is scheduled.

For More Information: Additional information about the VA Pre-Need Determination of Eligibility Program is available on the VA website at http://www.cem.va.gov/preneed.

VA Black Hills Health Care System (VA BHHCS) Announces Availability of the Final Environmental Impact Statement for Reconfiguration of VA Black Hills Health Care System

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Black Hills Health Care System (BHHCS) announces the availability of the Final Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) regarding the proposal to reconfigure our health care system. The document carefully evaluates the possible environmental effects of VA's preferred alternative to reconfigure as well as six alternatives. The Final EIS identifies the measures to mitigate adverse effects. It also addresses the comments received from Veterans, stakeholders, government agencies and members of the public during the comment period that was open from October 2015 to June 2016.

"The document is not a final decision; however, it is an important and necessary tool for making a final determination on the proposed reconfiguration of services and resources to provide high-quality, safe, accessible, and cost-effective care closer to where Veterans live," said Sandra Horsman, Director, VA BHHCS. "It has taken a lot of work and public involvement to get to this point." As a result of consultation and public input VA changed its preferred alternative to maintain a presence on the historic Hot Springs campus by providing outpatient care through a Community Based Outpatient Clinic in Building 12.

The document is available on the website www.blackhills.va.gov/vablackhillsfuture/. Copies of the Final EIS are also available in the following locations: Hot Springs, Rapid City Downtown, Sturgis, Chadron, Alliance, Lied Scottsbluff, and Pierre (Rawlins Municipal) public libraries; as well as in Pine Ridge at the Oglala Lakota College Pine Ridge Center library on the high school campus.

VA Announces Funding Opportunity for Community Partners Working to End Veteran Homelessness

WASHINGTON – Building on President Obama’s commitment to end Veteran homelessness, the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) is announcing the availability of funding for non-profit organizations and other groups that serve Veterans through VA’s Supportive Services for Veteran Families (SSVF) program. The SSVF program assists very low-income Veteran families who are homeless or at risk of becoming homeless. These SSVF grants are available to current grantees seeking renewals and make new funding available for eight high-need communities.

VA relies on strong, targeted collaborations in key areas at federal and local levels and engages community partners to develop innovative and forward-thinking solutions that can lead to scalable and replicable models of service. SSVF grantees currently operate in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and Guam, working within their communities to end or prevent homelessness among Veteran families.

“One of the things you learn in the Army is you never leave a soldier behind,” said Secretary McDonald. “Unfortunately, we’ve left some people behind, and they’re our homeless Veterans. VA is committed to achieving the goal of ending Veteran homelessness, and we won’t rest until every homeless Veteran has a place to call home.”

SSVF grantees typically serve Veterans with incomes below 30 percent of the area median income. Grantees must follow the housing first approach, which centers on permanently housing homeless Veterans quickly without preconditions and providing supportive services as needed. Additional SSVF requirements are that grantees engage in outreach to find and serve
Veterans in need, provide Veterans with case management, and assist them in obtaining VA and other public benefits. SSVF served nearly 150,000 Veterans and their family members in fiscal year 2016. As a result of these and other efforts, Veteran homelessness is down significantly since the launch of the Federal Strategic Plan to Prevent and End Homelessness in 2010. Since 2010, homelessness among Veterans had dropped by 47 percent.

For more information about VA’s homeless programs, visit www.va.gov/homeless. The Federal Register notice of funding availability may be found at: www.va.gov/homeless/ssvf/index.asp. The application deadline is February 3, 2017 at 4 p.m. EST.
Social Security and Veterans Affairs Partnership Means Faster Disability Decisions for Veterans

By Kirk Larson
Social Security Western Washington Public Affairs Specialist

The Social Security Administration announced the launch of a new Health IT initiative with the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) that enables all Social Security disability case processing sites to receive medical records electronically from all VA facilities. Veterans will receive a faster decision on their Social Security disability claim, speeding them and their dependents through this new process. Both agencies will save time and money with an automatic request through the eHealth Exchange.

The new Health IT program was tested successfully at Social Security locations around the country. On Veteran’s Day, November 11, the eHealth Exchange went live, nationally, to all Social Security disability case processing sites.

Social Security requests nearly 15 million medical records annually from healthcare providers and organizations to make medical decisions on about three million disability claims. Medical documentation is essential to make a disability determination. Historically, the agency obtained medical records through a manual process (mail, fax, secure mail). This new national initiative puts in place an automated process to obtain medical records electronically without human intervention.

“VA is currently improving quality of life by enabling Veterans to share their health information with federal partners and integrating their data into a safe and secure health-related consumer application,” said Dr. David Shulkin, Under Secretary for Health of the Department of Veterans Affairs. “Currently, when eligible Veterans apply for Social Security Disability Insurance benefits the average wait time for Social Security to receive paper records from VA can take months; this partnership allows Social Security and VA to share the Veteran’s health information electronically in minutes. The Social Security and VA partnership allows VA to continue to be a leader in interoperability efforts among federal partners while improving overall quality of life for our Veteran patients.”

This partnership adds the VA to Social Security’s more than 50 other Health IT partners, including the Department of Defense, in approximately 7,000 facilities across the United States providing electronic health records. Social Security’s goal is to continue expanding the number of healthcare organizations and federal agencies providing electronic health records within a safe and secure environment.

To learn more about Health IT, please visit www.socialsecurity.gov/disabilityssi/it.

Social Security offers two other programs to expedite disability claims filed by veterans. Wounded Warriors and veterans with a VA disability compensation rating of 100% Permanent & Total have their Social Security disability claims treated as high priority and receive expedited decisions. For more information about these programs, please visit www.socialsecurity.gov/people/veterans. To get more Social Security news, follow the Press Office on Twitter @SSAPress.
SUPPORTING OUR WOUNDED WARRIORS

By Kirk Larson
Social Security Western Washington Public Affairs Specialist

Every Veterans Day, the nation honors the brave men and women who risk their lives to protect our country and the freedoms we cherish. Social Security honors veterans and active duty members of the military every day by giving them the support they deserve. A vital part of that is administering the Social Security disability program.

For those who return home with injuries, Social Security is a resource they can turn to for disability benefits. Social Security’s Wounded Warriors website is at www.socialsecurity.gov/woundedwarriors.

The Wounded Warriors website has answers to many commonly asked questions, and shares other useful information about disability benefits, including how veterans can receive expedited processing of disability claims. Benefits available through Social Security are different from those available from the Department of Veterans Affairs and require a separate application.

The expedited process is available to military service members who become disabled while on active military service on or after October 1, 2001, regardless of where the disability occurs.

Even active duty military who continue to receive pay while in a hospital or on medical leave should consider applying for disability benefits if they’re unable to work due to a disabling condition. Active duty status and receipt of military pay don’t necessarily prevent payment of Social Security disability benefits. Although a person can’t receive Social Security disability benefits while engaging in substantial work for pay or profit, receipt of military payments should never stop someone from applying for disability benefits from Social Security. Learn more by visiting www.socialsecurity.gov/woundedwarriors.

With over 80 years of experience and compassionate service, Social Security is proud to support our veterans and active duty members of the military. Let these heroes know they can count on us when they need to take advantage of their earned benefits, today and tomorrow.
"During the month of November, we observe Native American Heritage Month to celebrate and recognize the significant contributions of the American Indian and Alaska Native (AIAN) community. As an agency, we welcome opportunities to serve the evolving needs and diverse populations of the American public. For those of American Indian descent who often face unique challenges in accessing and understanding our complex programs, we seek to expand our educational and outreach efforts and build more collaborative relationships with tribal governments.

As the agency's Tribal Consultation Official, I am committed to addressing the unique needs of tribal communities, improving government to government relationships, and expanding communications in Indian Country.

To provide American Indians with additional information on services provided by our agency, we collaborated with the Office of Open Government to launch the AIAN public-facing, geospatial map. The interactive AIAN map, allows users to find their local field office, resident station, or Video Service Delivery (VSD) site closest to their Tribe or Reservation location. For more information on the tribes in your servicing area, please access the AIAN map, at https://www.ssa.gov/open/geospatial.html.

I am also pleased to present the Tribal Benefits Coordinator Guide. This resource provides tribes’ benefit coordinators with accurate and up-to-date information on Social Security's benefit programs, service options, process for applying for benefits, online resources, and much more. The Tribal Benefits Coordinator Guide is also available on our American Indians and Alaska Natives (AIAN) website, under the Publications section.

As we seek to better educate the public about our programs and improve accessibility to our services in Indian country, you will have an opportunity to take part in this important initiative. Each of the 567 federally recognized tribes received this guide, and may reach out to local field offices with questions. Thank you for your support and the work you do each day in your community serving the public.

Transforming the Homeless Provider Grant and Per Diem Program

The United States (U.S.) Department of Veterans Affairs’ (VA) largest transitional housing program — the Homeless Providers Grant and Per Diem (GPD) Program — is transforming so that VA and its community partners can more effectively serve Veterans. The transformation involves implementing a competitive, time-limited grant process that will require currently funded community providers to reapply for funding.

The transformation comes at a time when the number and range of other VA and federally funded housing services for homeless Veterans is greater and wider than it was over 20 years ago, when GPD was established. This means GPD is no longer the only source of grant funding provided to community partners. The new competitive process will give VA greater flexibility to allocate resources and the agility to respond to evolving best practices for homeless services and programs — to ultimately best serve our nation’s Veterans.

With this transformation, all current Homeless Provider GPD Program grants (except Transition at Place awards) will expire on Sept. 30, 2017, and grantees must reapply for projects and per diem awards for fiscal 2018. VA anticipates publishing a Notice of Funding Availability with details of the application requirements by the end of the 2016 calendar year.

About VA’s Homeless Providers Grant and Per Diem Program (GPD)

The GPD program allows VA to award grants to community-based agencies to create transitional housing programs and offer per diem payments. The purpose is to promote the development and provision of supportive housing and/or supportive services with the goal of helping homeless Veterans achieve residential stability, increase their skill levels and/or income and obtain greater self-determination.

Program highlights through September 2016:
• VA’s largest transitional housing program with over 13,800 beds nationwide.
• Over 25,000 Veterans entered GPD transitional housing.
• More than 16,000 homeless Veterans exited GPD to permanent housing.
• 462 Transition at Place model housing units operational.
• Average length of stay in GPD: 179 days (lowest since FY 2008).
• 130 grantees have worked with VA to adopt bridge housing models.
